

Current Awareness Bulletin:

Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery and Orthodontics

Issue 08 August 2026

This current awareness bulletin includes recently published literature related to the disciplines of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery (OMFS) and Orthodontics.

It is produced on a quarterly basis by the NHS Forth Valley Library Service. You can use the links within each reference to view the articles on our national catalogue. From there, you can review the abstract, access the full-text where available, or place requests for articles that are outside of our current subscriptions.

Please remain critical and use your professional knowledge and judgement to assess the validity and relevance of the sources included in this bulletin, as they have not gone through an appraisal process and may therefore be variable in quality.

If you would like to contact us with feedback, comments, or questions then please email fv.forthvalleylibraryservices@nhs.scot.

Finally, don't forget to check out the full range of current awareness bulletins available on The Knowledge Network, our national digital library. You can also access a wealth of other library subscription resources on this website. If you require any support, please get in touch with your local NHSS library service.

Additional Resources and Support

Evidence Summaries

Evidence summaries are point of care decision support tools that make it easier to get evidence into practice. They summarise high-quality evidence on different conditions, including practice advice around diagnosis and treatment options, into concise reference entries to help you find answers to clinical questions easily.

There are several evidence summary tools available via The Knowledge Network as part of our national library subscriptions. You may be particularly interested in searching BMJ Best Practice or DynaMed for up-to-date information on conditions of interest.

Medicines Information

There are also several Medicines Information resources available via The Knowledge Network, including the BNF. You may be interested in accessing these resources for up-to-date evidence and advice around the safe, efficient and effective use of medicines.

Literature Searching and Training

If you would like to request a literature search around a particular research topic or clinical question, or if you'd like to arrange training/support with using The Knowledge Network, specific resources, or with literature searching, then please contact your local library service who will be happy to advise further.

NHS Forth Valley staff and partners can find more information about requesting services from the library on StaffNet, or get in touch with us by emailing fv.forthvalleylibraryservices@nhs.scot.
